GOTTA CATCH 'EM ALL!

YOUR GUIDE ON HOW TO
CONNECT TO COLLECT

CONNECT & COLLECT!

With Pokémon Diamond and Pokémon Pearl there are over 100 new Pokémon to collect. But don't leave your cherished Pokémon collection behind on the Game Boy® Advance—you can bring them along with you. Pokémon Diamond and Pokémon Pearl give you the ability to transfer your favorite Pokémon from your Pokémon Game Boy Advance RPG games, including: Pokémon Ruby, Pokémon Sapphire, Pokémon Emerald, Pokémon FireRed, and Pokémon LeafGreen to your Nintendo DS version. Additionally, you can bring all the Pokémon from your Pokémon Diamond and Pokémon Pearl Pokédex to Wii and battle with them in brilliant 3-D graphics on Pokémon Battle Revolution! All games sold separately.

POKÉMON GAME BOY ADVANCE GAMES

The Game Boy Advance Pokémon games had players working their hardest to catch 'em all in Pokémon Ruby, Pokémon Sapphire, Pokémon Emerald, Pokémon FireRed, and Pokémon LeafGreen. It would be a shame to leave all those great Pokémon behind... So bring 'em over to your Nintendo DS!

PAL PARK

After players have completed certain goals, a new area opens up in the Pokémon Nintendo DS games called the Pal Park. The Pal Park allows players to bring their entire Pokémon collection from their Pokémon Game Boy Advance games to Pokémon Diamond or Pokémon Pearl using the Dual Slot feature of the Nintendo DS. With this feature, players are able to transfer 6 Pokémon a day to Pokémon Diamond and Pokémon Pearl.

GTS (GLOBAL TRADE STATION)

The Global Trade Station uses Nintendo® Wi-Fi Connection to allow players to post Pokémon they want to trade on a worldwide bulletin board. Simply enter the gender and level of the Pokémon you want in return for the one you post. You can also browse through Pokémon other players have posted. Be sure to visit www.pokemon-games.com to link to the GTS site and get a look at vital stats on the most popular Pokémon being traded around the world.

BATTLE TOWER

The Battle Tower allows players to test their battling skills against seven other Trainers and their Pokémon. Players will battle the toughest Pokémon that Pokémon Diamond and Pokémon Pearl have to offer. A new Nintendo Wi-Fi Connection feature in the Battle Tower allows players to register their winning Pokémon and battle records. Once registered, players worldwide can battle against these tough competitors.

WIRELESS & WI-FI

DS WIRELESS COMMUNICATION

DS Wireless Communications lets you connect with other players in the immediate area for lots of great games, battling, and trading!

- Battle and trade in the Pokémon Center
- Join a game of Capture the Flag with friends underground
- Compete in 4-player Pokémon battles
- Get more fun out of contests by linking together
- Meet friends, chat, and share the Pokémon experience in the Union Room!

NINTENDO WI-FI CONNECTION

The Nintendo DS is equipped with a great online feature, and Pokémon Diamond and Pokémon Pearl take it to the max by allowing you to communicate, trade, and battle with friends from all over the globe!

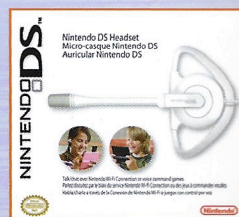

- Battle, trade, and use voice chat with friends around the world
- Trade with other Pokémon fans worldwide at the GTS
- Download profiles of other Trainers worldwide to battle against in the Battle Tower
- In order to communicate via Nintendo WFC, players need to register each others' Friend Codes

*Wireless router or Nintendo Wi-Fi USB Connector and broadband access required for online play.

DS HEADSET & CHATTING

Players who have entered each other's Friend Codes can communicate using the voice chat feature. Since chatting is only allowed between two players who have registered each other's Friend Codes, they can easily control who they talk to. For kids, it's like having a cell phone that only connects with their friends. The Nintendo DS headset (sold separately) makes these conversations a breeze.
